

LIBERTY BELL TO ARRIVE TUESDAY

Three-Day Celebration Will Be Held to Commemorate Its Visit Here.

an exhibition of calisthenics, and, as the men will be put through the exercises used in teaching them to become soldiers this event should be very interesting.

Battery Practice Exhibition.

The different batteries of the Fourth field artillery are to have a pack drill exhibition. Each team will consist of ten mules, one carter and four packers. The mules are to carry two sacks of oats each. The carter, appearing in a blanket, corral and cincha are to be placed on the ground at the starting point. At the starting signal men and mules are moved to the right and the carter and packers are put on the animals, after which each section will be run 50 yards.

Wireless Exhibition.

Company "I" signal corps, commanded by Capt. Robert M. Nolan, will establish a wireless station in the arena. This station will be established by setting up a 45 foot pole, which is joined and when not in use is carried on the mules. The power to operate the instrument to send out electric waves, which is the means by which wireless messages are sent from one place to another, is generated by hand power and it takes four men to work the hand generator. The wires from the top of the mast to the ground, to catch the waves and to send them off into space, is known as the antenna. A wire connects the antenna with the operating chest below and the whole outfit can send and receive messages over a radius of 30 miles.

The machine gun companies of the Sixth and Sixteenth infantry are to have a competition. Each company will enter a platoon, two guns, in the exhibition. The platoons are to run a hundred yards, unpack the gun, set it up and fire a round of blank ammunition, after which they are to return to the starting point. Machine guns are cutting a great deal of ice in the European war these days and all our people will be glad to see them in action.

Capt. Douglas Potts, with his battalion, the second of the Sixteenth infantry, will have a special drill. In this drill Capt. Potts will make use of the celebrated method of saluting in use in foreign armies.

Artillery Drill.

Capt. R. Briggs and battery "A," Fifth artillery, will again have their interesting drill, to include quite a little firing. Different teams from the Eighth cavalry will engage in a Roman race and then the first battalion, Sixteenth infantry, commanded by Capt. R. W. Howell, with Lieut. Alva Lee as adjutant, will bring the tournament to a close.

BIG CHORUS FOR BELL CEREMONY

Five Hundred Voices and Three Army Bands in Patriotic Program.

Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Christian church the big Liberty Bell chorus of 500 voices will meet to rehearse with the combined bands of the 6th and 16th infantry and 8th cavalry, the patriotic music selected for the Liberty Bell review ceremony on Tuesday.

The chorus and the massed bands will be directed during the singing by James Graham McNary, who was named by the mayor at the suggestion of Gen. Pershing to have full charge of the musical features of the Liberty Bell program. Alternating with the songs, the three bands will play independent numbers on the program. The chorus will consist of 500 church choir singers, professional and others familiar with choral work, 200 men picked from the various regiments on duty.

This battalion is supposed to be retreating through the country of the enemy. They come to a stream and find no way of crossing it. A small house, in the neighborhood, is torn down from this enough lumber is secured to permit the constructing of a bridge that may be used by artillery. This should be the great drawing card of the tournament, as, after all the battles have crossed over, the bridge is to be blown up.

During the tournament, Capt. A. F. Watts, quartermaster at Fort Bliss, will have a model baker in operation on the grounds.

The committee in charge, appointed by Mayor Tom Lea is as follows: Gen. John J. Pershing, mayor; Tom Lea, (Hon. Order), H. J. Slater, E. C. Davis, Mrs. J. W. Lorentzen, H. M. Dudley, Judge Dan M. Jackson, L. M. Whitaker, James G. McNary, John M. Wyatt, H. M. Hoover, Mel. E. A. Wilcox, Lieut. O. E. Michaels, V. L. Stiles, W. E. Mix and Rev. G. W. Robinson.

Gen. Pershing has appointed the following committee to get up and take charge of the tournament:

Mr. J. W. Lorentzen, president of the American Revolution, and a committee will be at the union station from 9 to 12 Tuesday to receive flowers donated for the purpose of trimming the Liberty Bell and the cars of the special train. The public is earnestly requested to make liberal donations of blossoms of any kind.

this station, and 150 boys and girls from the high school. While all are more or less familiar with the songs it is almost necessary that there be one full rehearsal with the bands. Chairman McNary specially requests that all men and women in El Paso who can sing and who are willing to participate in this feature of the day's picnic, this being the only sort of invitation it is possible to issue owing to the short time. The special stand to be erected in the park facing the Stanton street station will accommodate all singers who will promise to attend.

The concert will begin promptly upon the arrival of the Bell at the Stanton street station where it will remain while the people pass rapidly by in formed lines; it will continue for about one hour and a half. Following is the program:

Liberty Bell march. Sousa; by the band of the 16th U. S. infantry. American song by chorus of 500 and accompanied by three massed bands all under direction of J. G. McNary. William Tell overture, Rossini; by the band of the 16th U. S. infantry. Battle Hymn of the Republic, sung by chorus with massed band accompaniment. "America," Tchaik; by the band of the Sixth U. S. infantry. Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean, sung by chorus with massed band accompaniment.

Suite in four parts, "The Lost Continent," Safranok; (a) Nocturne and Morning Hymn of Prayer; (b) A Court Function; (c) The Prince and Anna; (d) The Destruction of Atlantis; by the band of the 16th U. S. infantry. Waltz, Wedding of the Winds, Hall; by the band of the Eighth U. S. cavalry.

The program is subject to change in arrangement as the music committee may see fit upon consultation with the band leaders.

The 16th infantry band will be directed by chief musician Ernest G. Fisher. The eighth cavalry band will be directed by chief musician Hecce Resta. The sixth infantry band will be directed by chief musician Max Muller. The 16th cavalry band will be directed by chief musician Max Muller. The band of the Fourth U. S. artillery will play a patriotic concert program in Cleveland square in the afternoon under the direction of first Sgt. William Carow.
